JAI BRIGHT

Jai Bright is an international award-winning opera singer and crossover artist from Washington, DC. Known for blending classical technique with jazz, soul, and contemporary storytelling, Bright has been described as a “bright star,” by the Washington Examiner. His performances range from opera stages to recital halls and festivals. His newest release, Everything Must Change, is gaining early traction across streaming platforms. Reaching 1k streams within the first three days. The Duke Ellington School of the Arts Alumni returns on April 9, Bright returns to his hometown to perform at the National Cherry Blossom Festival’s Bloom Fest at the Tidal Basin, on his birthday.
